

THE official reports show that no baking powder received an award over the Royal at the Chicago World's Fair.

The judge of awards on baking powder writes that the claim by another company to have received the highest award is false; that no such award was given to it.

The Royal Baking Powder is the purest and strongest baking powder made, and has received the highest award at every fair, wherever exhibited in competition with others.

MRS. FLOWER'S BULL DOG.

A Precious Pet Struck Its Teeth Into the New York Governor's Wife's Chin.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—In return for attention on the part of his mistress, a bull dog, a pet in the family of Governor Flower, sprang at Mrs. Flower and buried his fangs in the lower part of her face.

Of the several women who were present, Mrs. Flower alone retained composure. Although suffering from the wounds she called the excitement of the others.

Governor and Mrs. Flower came from Albany on Tuesday to spend a few days in this city. Fred S. Flower, a nephew of the governor who is connected with his uncle's banking business and makes his home with him, called in "Billy" to form one of the company. "Billy" held a high place in the family and a cordial greeting was extended to him. He is a bull dog, big and of fine pedigree and was presented to the family when a puppy three years ago by Senator Murphy.

All the members of Governor Flower's household became greatly attached to Billy, especially Mrs. Flower, who is very fond of him, and the dog seemed to divide his affections equally between his mistress and Fred Flower. Billy's deportment on Thursday evening was creditable. He seemed pleased when Mrs. Flower patted his head and plainly had not forgotten her during her absence.

Mrs. Flower went into the servants' room in the lower part of the house the next afternoon to renew her acquaintance with her parrot. Billy was lying quietly in the room where there were several maids, and as Mrs. Flower went to the dog on her way to the parrot's cage she spoke carelessly to him and stooped to stroke his ears.

Without warning the animal sprang at Mrs. Flower, whose face was close to his head. His heavy body struck her with great force, and his teeth sank into her chin. The maids screamed in terror, and in their excitement seemed unable to offer assistance. Messengers were dispatched to a drug store, and in search of a physician. The wound was properly dressed before the family physician arrived.

He found that the upper fangs of the dog had pierced the flesh on Mrs. Flower's chin near the underlip. The incisions were deep, and one was nearly an inch long where the dog's tooth had torn downward. Mrs. Flower was however, well enough to return to Albany with the governor, and it is believed the injuries will not be permanent.

Peace in the kitchen means joy all over the house. There is peace in every kitchen where Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is used.

EIGHT $10 BILLS.

Harry Croft says Wood Fowler Robbed Him to That Effect.

Wood Fowler, a young man well known in local sporting circles, was arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff Wilkerson at the instigation of Harry Croft, who is equally well known in the same set. Croft accuses Fowler of "touching him" for eight $10 bills.

Croft carried a good sized roll of crisp bank notes in his inside vest pocket, and inadvertently left the vest hanging on a nail in the hall at his place on East Seventh street. When he went back after it he felt anxiously for the roll and found it was still there. But later in the evening when he came to figure up his accounts he found that the $80 he had for a "wrapper" to the roll was gone. Croft claims to have good reasons for supposing that Fowler took it, but the latter says if he had stolen any he would have taken the whole roll.

Fowler was arrested in company with a young woman at a restaurant late last night. Fowler showed fight, but didn't fight. The case was taken into Justice Furry's court today and Fowler had no trouble giving bond.

STRONGLY DENIES IT.

David Overmyer Says He Never Made That Speech.

THE STORY HAS BEEN RUN DOWN

By "State Journal" Reporters and the Result of Their Investigations is Given Below.

The STATE JOURNAL has received a letter from David Overmyer in which he emphatically denies having said anything about suffrage, prohibition or the Germans in the speech made by him in Jefferson county in 1882, as he is charged in the Kansas City Post of a recent date, extracts of which were copied in this paper.

Mr. Overmyer's letter is as follows:

HAYS CITY, Kan., Oct. 18, 1894.

To the Editor of the STATE JOURNAL:

I have just read your article in your paper of Tuesday, the 16th inst., purporting to be a reproduction of portions of a speech alleged to have been delivered by me in 1882, at Valley Falls. As to every utterance in said article imputed to me, I enter my solemn and unqualified denial, and denounce the same here and now as a base fabrication and a tissue of lies from beginning to end. In the speech referred to I made no mention of or reference to the subject of woman suffrage, and no reference to or mention of the subject of immigration; no reference to or mention of the German people, or Germans, nor any mention of prohibition except to explicitly say that I was opposed to it. Capt. A. J. Arnold, postmaster at Topeka, and Judge N. B. Arnold and many other citizens of Topeka who know me from my first arrival in Kansas, can attest that my sentiments upon all those subjects were always just what they are now.

Yours truly, DAVID OVERMYER.

S. Goshering, managing editor of the Kansas City Post, the paper which published the Overmyer speech in English and German, and which is being used as a campaign document by the Populist state central committee, talked with a STATE JOURNAL reporter about the publication of the speech.

Mr. Goshering said: "Overmyer can't deny having made that speech in Jefferson county, because he made it and we have the proof of it."

"Have you a copy of the paper in which the speech was originally published?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, it was published in our paper."

"Where did you get the paper?"

"A prominent Democratic politician who lives in Topeka, furnished the speech."

"Who is this Democratic politician?"

"I can't give his name, as he now holds a political job which he would be likely to lose if it was known that he furnished the speech."

"Did this Democrat furnish you with a written or printed copy of the speech?"

"No. He furnished the facts, and I wrote them out."

"Do you regard your information as perfectly reliable?"

"I most certainly do."

"You insist that you won't give his name?"

"We can give his name in case of emergency. Overmyer's denial is useless, as he made speeches as a Republican in the campaign of 1882, and the Republican platform represented prohibition and all the other ills."

Jacob Frower, the Kansas City, Kan., representative of the Kansas City Post, who spent several days in Jefferson county recently investigating Mr. Overmyer's political record, says that Judge G. A. Burton, of Topeka, who was a candidate for probate judge in Jefferson county on the Republican ticket that fall, presided at the Overmyer meeting.

Judge Huron, when asked by a JOURNAL reporter, said he did not preside at the meeting in question, and also said: "Our county was a very close one, and we wanted a speaker who would be conservative enough to hold all voters and draw the conservative element. They sent us Overmyer and he made four speeches in the county, at Meriden, Valley Falls, Oskaloosa and Winchester. I do not remember what he said about woman suffrage, but I know he was extremely radical on prohibition. He was so radical and abusive that I was told after he had been at Meriden by my friends there that he had driven a great many voters away from us. He only made four speeches in the county and we lost it in the election by about 400."

Police Commissioner Young was said to have information on the subject. A reporter saw him and he said: "We would just like to have Overmyer deny it. We have the proof, and Oscar Krauss knows all about it. He can tell where the speech was published."

Krauss was seen and said: "I know nothing about it except that I saw the Post man when he came back from Valley Falls, and he told me that he had found Overmyer's speech."

J. P. Wilson, ex-clerk of the district court of Jefferson county, now bookkeeper at A. J. Arnold & Son, says: "I heard Mr. Overmyer make a speech in 1882 and it was so radical in favor of prohibition that the Republicans of Oskaloosa were of the opinion that he was doing the ticket more harm than good and it was suggested that he must modify his expressions or it would be best to retire him from the campaign."

"What would the world be to us if the children were no more?" asks Longfellow. Who are so fond, as children, of the delicious shortcake made with Dr. Price's Baking Powder.

Mr. Hughes, Jr., demanded a jury trial and in the trial of the case he proved a complete alibi, showing that on the night of the charivari he was in his room on Lincoln street, near Washburn college, where he is a student. The case was dismissed and the state must pay the costs.

APPLE THIEVES.

They Are Treated to a Load of Shot While Robbing an Orchard.

H. Heddx, who lives at the corner of Fifteenth and Chandler streets, has an orchard. For the past two or three nights some one has been stripping the trees of the apples. Last night Mr. Heddx concluded that he would find out who the thieves were. He loaded his shotgun with fine shot and stationed himself in the orchard.

About 10 o'clock two men with sacks entered the orchard and commenced to pick apples from the trees. Mr. Heddx called to the men and they ran. He attempted to make them halt but they ran faster. He then shot at them and there was a wild cry from one of the men.

Heddx then fired the other barrel but the men continued running and escaped.

Henry Spahr, Henry Sneed and Isaac L. Walker were given a hearing before United States Commissioner Wagner on the charge of counterfeiting at 4 p. m. yesterday. The men were arrested October 11 and several counterfeit coins were found in their possession.

The men refused to have a lawyer and Spahr and Sneed waived an examination. Walker refused to waive, but the evidence showed that the men did their work in his place and he was held. Their bonds were fixed at $500. Spahr and Sneed seem anxious to get to the penitentiary, and they will probably make no defense.
